The governing body of the Broadmoor Police Protection District is through a Commission made up of three (3) residents elected at large by the voters of the District. The role of the Police Commission is to hire the Chief of Police – District Manager, set and formulate policy, adopt the annual operating budget, and hear appeals in certain personnel matters. In addition to actively participating on the Commission, the primary role of a Commissioner is to be a direct link between the residents of the District and the police department.
